

Acknowledgements

This report is the product of the experiences and wisdom of many individuals. Special thanks to those service providers who gave generously of their time and knowledge, including:

Cath Bartolo, Lauren Boyd, Michael Willett, Nicole Knoble, Caroline Cox, Cathy Davis, Stephanie Anne, Sandy Healey, Robert Newman, Andrew Lawndy, Miriam Taylor, Nicky Edwards, Lynne Monahan, Melinda Jocumsen, Carol Llewellyn-Scorey, Robyn Albury, David Langdon, Luke Hatzipetrou, Michelle Denton, Lorraine Gorman, Dr Kali, Phil Parker, Toni Meyer, Mel Hilditch, Bronwyn Rivers, Carmel Towler

To the members of the CLP Dual Diagnosis Project Reference Group who provided direction and support, as well as sharing their own practice learnings, including:

Morrie O'Connor, Lisa Castley, John Hooper, Jenny Fowkes, Trina Osborne

To the CLP constituents who participated in the CLP Collaborative Project and shared their personal insights and experiences for this report, including:

Katalin, Jonathan, Lorelle, Kylie, Helen, Joe, Kelee, Adam, Stephen

Thank you, also, to Disability Services Queensland for funding the project, and Adult Learning Australia and the Queensland Community Sector and Health Industry Training Council for administering the project.

Report prepared by Sarah MacDonald (Project Worker)
Community Living Program
5 Nundah Street
Nundah QLD 4012

© C.L.A. Inc. 2002

A note on language

People with a learning difficulty are referred to by a variety of terms in both academic and social discourse. Some of the terms used include intellectually disabled, learning disabled, mentally retarded, or mentally handicapped. At Community Living Program (CLP) we use the term 'learning difficulty', which is the preferred term of the people we support. At CLP the people we support are referred to as 'Constituents'.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
1. Introduction and Background to the Project	4
2. Methodology	6
3. Demographics and Prevalence	10
4. Non-identification and Under-reporting	13
5. Risk Factors	15
6. Recognising Dual Diagnosis: Assessment Skills	21
7. Diagnostic Tools And Processes	25
8. Interventions And Treatment Methods	31
9. Practice Skills For Dual Diagnosis Work	36
10. Developing And Supporting Workers' Skills	41
11. 'Gaps' Limiting Effective Responses To Dual Diagnosis	43
12. Recommendations	46
13. Appendices	57
14. References	60